

If the temperament of the more than 200 Mexican-American activists who gathered for the "Pre-El Paso Hearings" meeting in Malibu this past weekend is indicative of the mood of Mexican-American throughout the Southwest, the political sky at El Paso might be ablaze with fire-works from Oct. 27-29. President Johnson may think he has scheduled hearings he can control, but it would ap-pear he is in for some real surprises.

Bert Corona of Oakland, MAPA's national president summarized the feelings of the chicanos present when he said, "Although Mr. Ximenez (President's advisor on Mexican-American Affairs)has picked some wonderful men, such as Ernesto Galarza of Los Altos and Eduardo Moreno of Camarillo, ... we resent the fact that he didn't trust the organizations and our people to pick our own representatives, for we probably would have selected Dr. Galarza and Mr. Moreno. But we don't know who some of the others may be, nor do we know where they have been in La Causa of La Raza. Furthermore, at the MAPA Convention in Riverside, Mr. Ximenez said that the long contemplated White House Conference, which President Johnson back in 1965 promised to hold and permit it to be structured by Mexican-Americans, would not be held. He is not holding the Conference it is true, but instead he is holding hearings where our people will repeat the numerous complaints we have repeated for years and which no administration has ever attempted to work with us to solve. "

LBJ backs down

It seems that the President after he promised the White House Conference, had se-cond thoughts and realized the power of grass roots civil rights activists to use such conferences to their advantage and to criticize the administration. Still the Democratic Party will need the Mexican-American vote, so the White House began "Operation Window Dressing". An Inter-Agency Committee on Mexican-American Affairs, akin to the Bureau of Indian Affairs, was created and directives were sent out to all Departments and Agencies to hire themselves some Mexicans -- just the thing that Ronald Reagan is doing in California. The President even created a "Cabinet level" position to be filled by a commissioner (Mr. Vicente Ximenez mentioned above) who would preside over the growing Mexican-American Club in Washington, D.C.

hearings or magic

The "hearings" which are intended to substitute for the Conference will be honored with the presence of the Secretaries of Labor (Wirtz), Agriculture (Freeman), Education (Gardner), and Housing, and Urban Development (Weaver), and the director of the War on Poverty (Shriver). Vicente Ximenez will serve Chairman for the hearings.

At the same time, it was announced, but by accident the President himself would be in El Paso on October 28 for the official ceremony of "signing of the Chamizal Treaty with President Diaz Ordaz. A veteran of the Al-buquerque "walk out", after hearing of this "accident", said: "Here we go again. That man LBJ believes in black magic. Aft'er having his underlings hear a few Mexicans tell them what they know so well, LBJ will go to the Chamizal and say, 'Viva la Causa!' There boys, I have given some of the land back to Mexico. What else do you Mexicans want?, and he will expect us to go back home quietly and remain quiet until after the 1968 elections. ' hell no we won't go !

For weeks following these twin announcements, the argument among activists was whether chicanos should go or not go to El Paso. The vendidos were convinced they should go "because LBJ calls"; many others wanted to go, but were aware that those going were going to be "used" for window dressing. To them the choice was between boycotting the hearings altogether or going but making sure that they didn't just come back home quietly without having accomplished a damn thing for the people. And that was the feeling at the Malibu conference, even after Congressman Roybal tried to soften the blow by saying; "Since the hearings are taking place anyhow, you might as well go to the conference and have a good time: like evervone else.

The turning point of the Pre-Hearings meeting at Malibu was Saturday morning. Dr. Ernesto Galarza, at present a consultant with the Ford Foundation, discussed in detail the hearings and the shortcomings of different ways of approaching the is-sue. Herman Gallegos, also with the Ford Foundation, gave a report of a two year study that Dr. Zamora, from Texas, Dr. Galarza and himself had done. Of the present problems of the Mexican-Americans in the Southwest.

While several workshops were held on issues having to do with housing, welfare, jobs and manpower, and police malpractice, another workshop dealt with "unity and action". This final workshop dealt with plans for El Paso and will be reported here. (Resumes of the other workshops will be printed as soon as they become available.) The "Unity and Action" workshop was composed mostly of delegates from the major statewide organizations of Mexican-Americans. Discussing Dr. Galarza's criticisms of the hearings, the unity workshop came up with a plan to guarantee that whatever happens in El Paso will result for the benefit of all Mexican-Americans and not just for window dressing the White House.

challenge & response

1) Since the hearings are being planned in relative secrecy, it was suggested to demand from Mr. Jiménez that the names of all people invited to attend be madepublic, as well as to demand that all organizations of Mexican Americans be invited to go, and not only the "safe" ones.

er death rate in Vietnam than classifies casualties as com-other GI's. Analysis of all bat and non-combat. (Only combat and non-combat deaths deaths are included in our a between January 1, 1961 and nalysis.) There were 1, 335 February 28, 1967 indicates combat deaths of Southwest that a large number of young servicemen in Vietnam in the people from this minority group reach the Southeast Asia theatre of war and that a considerable number of them are involved in hazardous duty.

Servicemen from the five southwest states of Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, Colorado and California suffered 1, 631 deaths in the aforementioned six - year period. Of these, 19.4 percent had Spanish surnames (Table 1). This figure appears high when compared with the share of the Spanish-surname population in the total for the region (11.8 percent in 1960). It is still high when the comparison is based on males of military age, i.e., individuals between age 17 and 36 years in 1967 (estimated at 13.8 percent).

While these figures are estimates, they are sufficient to indicate orders of magnitude. If one were to project birthrate, immigration and other factors, the statistical relationship would not be substantially different. Spanishsurname individuals would probably be slightly more numerous.

War deaths by branch of service suggest that relatively large numbers of Mexican-Americans are involved in high-risk duty. For example, Spanish surname individuals represented 23.3 percent of all Southwest Marine Corps deaths, 19.4 percent of the Army, 9.1 of the Air Force and 7.3 percent of the Navy. Marine Corps deaths, which are high in all the five southwestern states, include a substantial number of casualties of presumed Mexican background. In New Mexico, for example, 13 of the state's 25 Marine Corps casualties had Spanish surnames. In Colorado 37 Marines died for both combat and non-combat causes. Nine of these had Spanish period under discussion, and 296 non-combat. Over 20 percent of all servicemen dying in combat and 14 percent of the non-combat casualties had Spanish surnames. Combat deaths result from military action against the enemy. Non-combat deaths may result from illness, accidents (as in the case of the U.S.S. Forrestal), and similar causes.

Since Mexican Americans are a highly urbanized population, the majority of their war casualties come from the cities of the Southwest. However, as Table 3 shows, Mexican-American servicemen show about the same high casualty rate whether they come from the urban or rural sector (19.5 percent of the urban total and 18.1 percent of the rural total).

An adequate interpretation curred. of the data is impossible without further information. Spanis-surnames servicemen may be over-represented in the Vietnam casualties because they are over-represented in the armed services generally or in the units assigned to Vietnam. Since relatively few young ethnics go to college, they have less of a chance to be deferred by local draft boards (which usually include few representatives of minority groups). Poverty and a yearning for the greater social acceptance in the armed services than in civilian life may cause more Mexican Americans to seek service and obtain the extra pay associated with high-risk duty. For some of them, the armed forces offer the first opportunity to escape from the barrios. In any event, the casualty figures seem to confirm the experience of World War II and Korea that is so vividly described by Raul Morin in Among the Valiant.

chicano educators - where are you?

EDITOR: Thanks for printing Tigers Meow. Rather than sign my stuff as anonymous I have chosen to sign myarticles as follows - El Gavilan. You see, the hawk devours rats and rodents and keeps the countryside free from these pests. I think you get the point.

This writer has followed. with great interest. the activities of the Mexican-Ame rican Educators' Associations. They began, of course, as one group, but that is a-nother story and a familiar one.

Both organizations, the California Association of Educators of Mexican Descent and the Association of Mexican-American Educators have displayed almost no willingn'ess to initiate programs, make recommendations, or pressure the school systems to meet the needs of the Mexican - American child. Both groups have gone the route of conferences, conventions, resolutions, and social affairs. Nothing else has oc-

The basic problem may be that it is unrealistic for educators within a system to criticize or make demands for change. Let's face it, educators, both Mexican-Americans and others, are famous for being uncreative, apathetic, and fearful of change and sometimes of each other. The few changes and innovations (and there have been darn few) have come because of outside pressure rather than from professional leadership.

So here we have two more roups whistling in the dark; however, there are some differences between them. The CAEMD can list in its accomplishments a few conferences, a couple of ban-quets, and a Valentines Day Dance. They missed the boat - they didn't elect a queen! When the United Council of Community Organizations began planning the convention that eventually endorsed Dr. Nava, this group avoided it like it was affected with the plague. They refus-ed to participate in it. Perhaps one can't blame them it was only an educational is sue. Perhaps it is too much to ask a group of educators to sit with community people to discuss something so vital as education; who knows, they might dirty their white shirts. They were also absent from the pre-white house planning conference in Malibu in October. It is evident that they are not interested in community affairs or issues, but this is par for educators anyway.

The leadership of this group reached the ridiculous when Daniel Reyes took office last year. He ended his term in office by publicly endorsing Charles Reed Smoot. Smoot lost (thank heaven) and this vendido took his reward in Sacramento. The Reagan administration deserves creditthey keep their promises. newly elected president is in office; however, his orientation is dances and banquets rather than action.

The AMAE also plays the conference game. Sorry, no dances. Little real action has come forth, but here there is hope. The group there is hope. The group does participate in community affairs and is willing to get with the people. Ed Moreno, State President, is action oriented. He is young and creative, and possesses fine leadership ability. The association is stirring and beginning to move and while the past is void of achievements it appears that the group will make its mark. At any rate, it bears watching.

People often comment on the issue of two educators groups. For all practical purposes, at the moment there are no educators groups. There is strong evidence we will have one very soon.

ATTENTION

All interested persons are invited to attend a Community Meeting to discuss plans for a voter registration drive prior to the primaries and to organize a community convention to select candidates for the primary elections next year.

Todas las personas interesadas están invitadas a una junta de la comunidad para planear el registro de votantes y la conferencia para seleccionar candidatos para las elecciones primarias el año próximo.

In the name of peace, we are creating a desert. In the name of security, we are inviting world conflagration. 3 We, the signers of this declaration, believe this war to be immoral. We believe it to be illegal. We must oppose it. 4 At Nuremberg, after World War II, we tried, convicted and executed men for the crime of OBEYING their government, when that government demanded of them crimes against humanity. QUESTION: Dr. Nava, in your letter to La Raza, you stated that the paper "lacked information regarding the actions I have initiated at the Board of Education concerning the cold lunches at several schools like Glenn Alta.", exactly what have you done regarding this issue?

ANSWER: I asked the staff of the Auxiliary Services Com-mittee to conduct a thorough survey of all elementary schools in the L.A. Unified School District in regard to their cafe-terias or lack of cafeteria facilities. I was particularly in-terested in getting accurate information on projected cafe-terias in the present Bond Issue and on the distribution of schools having cafeteria facilities according to service areas. The report is now available, and the evidence is devasta-tingly clear that the northern part of Central City and the Eastiside schools are by far least provided for in terms of cafeterias. (Note: Out of 440 existing schools, 7°) have no cafeterias. Is in the north and 26 in the east. Forty-three schools have cafeterias in the current building program, 12 in the north and east areas, 7 in the north, 5 in the east.) O. Out of 31 schools without cafeterias, only 5 have building

Q. Out of 31 schools without cafeterias, only 5 have building plans for the next two years. How is the Board going to pro-vide hot lunches for all the children in the remaining 26 chools

A. I have suggested that the cafeteria plans for the 5 ele-mentary schools be halted (except where already contracted) and the bond funds be pooled for construction of one, large Regional cafeteria facility to supply all elementary schools without cafeterias. Of those already planned only one, Eu-clid School, has been approved and contracted. Mr. Robert J. Purdy has assigned Mr. Barnes and Mr. Volla to prepare estimates and recommendations relating to a Food Produc-tion Center. Their findings should be available not later than November 15.

tion Center. Their findings should be available not later than November 15. In addition, the cafeteria at the Grape St. School will be expanded to become the supply center for hot lunches to 8 schools. Those schools are: Second St., Breed St., Glenn Alta, Soto St., Latona Ave., Griffin Ave., Hillside, and Huntington Dr.

I feel reasonably satisfied we have done all that is possible to do within reason on this question.

How long will it be before children at Glenn Alta have hot lunches

A. Next week, that is, beginning October 9. Until a complete hot lunch program is available, the administration has made arrangements to have a part hot lunch delivered to the school. Alternating 3 days with 2 days a week, the children will have hamburgers, hot dogs, and grilled cheese sandwiches.

Q. The United Council of Community Organizations has made public some reports of violations of the Administrative Code and malpractice on the part of the principal at Euclid st. El-ementary School, as well as a set of demands which include the removal of the principal. Are you aware of the situation?

A. Yes, I am. The issue was brought to the Board, and I personally met with delegates from the Council and Mrs. Monica Jiménez. I explained to them the procedures fol-lowed by the Board concerning complaints against school per-sonnel. You see, the object of the Board is to get the sys-tem running right, not to run the schools. The purpose of those procedures is to protect the employees of the school system. system

October 15, 1967

I specifically asked Mrs. Hardy and Dr. Richardson if any community groups had requested an Executive Session concerning transfer of principal. The answer was no, that no formal letter had been received.

Q. The Council has announced a picket line at the school for Monday, October 9. What effect do you think such action will have in this case ?

A. I can't tell them to do or not to do... but you can be sure I will be sympathetic and move as fastas possible. However, the decision of the Board will be based on data and evidence; you must get good evidence. Get also all the support you can get. But, if it is a matter of a parent's word against a prin-cipal, the board will always act for the principal. Again, if they want to handle it, they will have to get good evidence; you have a board that is responsive to community demands. I hope whatever happens that it will not hurt the children.

Q. Recently, the Adult Education Committee of which you are a member met concerning community advisory councils for the Job Skills Centers. What came out of the meeting?

A. I think we came up with a very good outline for the com-munity advisory committees. Copies of the final draft should be available soon from Dr. Johnson's office. It was felt that the committees should include representatives from as broad ould the committees should include representatives from as proad a spectrum as possible. This would include 50% lay people from business and community organizations. Lay people will be selected by Dr. Johnson in consultation with the di-rector of the center and members of the community. Dr. Johnson himself will ultimately determine the relative per-centages within the 50%. The other 50% will be professional representatives from the school district staff, local agencies, labor churches and others. labor, churches and others.

0. Why not have 100% lay people?

A. That's not good. You need lay people to make recom-mendations, but you must have professionals who can pre-sent views of the function of the total program and advise concerning feasibility of community recommendations.

What would you say is the main function of these advisory committees

A. The purpose is to get more lay people involved. Advi-sory committees cannot run programs. If they don't like the way the administrator is running the program they can move to have him changed, but it always remains the job of the ad-

Advisory Committees should run their own affairs. It is a pattern to involve lay people in governing themselves. We will attempt to get funding to pay expenses of the committee members such as transportation and the cost of luncheon or discovernet dinner meetings.

Q. Do you think it is a good idea to have students involved in the advisory councils ?

A. Generally, you bet. It might very well be desirable to get students and alumni on the committee. This is not spe-cifically stated in the outline, but it is certainly not exemp-

MEXICAN-AMERCIAN STUDENTS ORGANIZE

On Saturday, May 13, 1967, one-hundred and fifty Mexican American college students from at least fifteen Southem California campuses came together at Loyola University in West Los Angeles in order to discuss the role of the Mexican-American college student in the school and in the community.

One of the resolutions that came forth from the all-day Mexican-American Collegiate Conference was that an ad-hoc committee for the purpose of drafting a constitution for the proposed Mexican-American student organization. During the months of June, July, and August, two student representatives from each of the fourteen colleges that were involved in this project met at least three times each month as an ad-hoc committee for the purpose of drafting a constitution for the proposed Mexican-American student organization.

When this task was completed late in September, there followed the second phase of the project: the forming of recognized chap-ters of this organization on each of the various campuses. On the Southern California regional level, the previously mentioned ad-hoc committee is presently planning and making arrangements for a convention during the Christmas recess to be held at East Los Angeles College on Decem-ber 16. This convention will bring together all the delegates and members of the entire association for the purpose of specifically and formally defining and outlining the policies and functions of a Mexican-American Student Organization.

2) Since the hearings have a very tight format that will not allow for debate, it will be demanded that copies of the speeches be given out at El Paso and that the facilities be made available in which all delegates will have the opportunity to discuss them and make corrections, before the final report is submitted to the White House. 31 Since the hearings will be held in 5 different hotels and there will be no central meeting place, it was suggested that a place be found where a general assembly of all delegates be held and final recommendations will be voted on democratically.

4) It was suggested to send an open invitation to all organizations of Mexican-Americans in the U.S. to send delegates to El Paso, with the only purpose of discussing the possibility of organizing a Unity Council of Southwestern Spanish Speaking Organizations.

The purpose of the Unity 5) Council would be to develop ways and means to support local community action, leadership training and information centers, and maybe a Defense Fund.

6) It will be demanded that in the future, the Inter-Agency Committee of the President will consult and negotiate with the Unity Council, about all future programs affecting Mexican-Americans.

Ralph Guzman, of the UC LA Mexican-American Study Project, pointed out on Sunday that all those demands were only "empty threats" because none of the organizations present had been able to realize the potential power in the Mexican-American Community; that they hadn't been able to project the goals of the Mexican-American and therefore the Anglo society "was not concerned with us".

Guzman said that at present the real key was on voter registration, and that "the lea-dership of the Mexican-American Community should be seen in the barrios getting dust on their shoes". He also chided the audience, just like Galarza had done the day before because of the absence of youth. Guzman pointed out that the medianage of the Mexican - American population was 19, and pointed out the tremendous generation gap that exists. He went on to say, "...the language of the young chicanos is that of the negro civil rights movement, they look to Mexican Revolution.. Stokely Carmi-chael...they grow mustaches try to speak Spanish...they can lead us. "

To confirm his point, may be the youngest person present at the meeting said in a low voice, "These old politicos and professionals seem to realize that El Paso might be their last chance to do something significant...if they fail...if they betray the Mexican - Americans. . . we will have to tell them "move on over or we shall move on over you."

PICKETS vs PICKETS at euclid & the anglos laughed

There are major, shocking deficiencies at the Euclid Ave. Elementary School. There are scandalous deficiencies throughout the East L s Angeles area in all of its public schools -- elementary. junior high and senior high. These deficiencies mean that only a rare few of our children receive an adequate education, and that some 75% drop-out. The problem deserves the active and urgent attention of all Mexicans. It is a major community problem which every Mexican ought to be visibly demanding be corrected. Among Mexicans, there are no outsiders in terms of protesting this problem: it is a shared, common problem confronting every one of us.

Therefore, it is a good thing when the United Council of Community Organizations is found sparking a protest demonstration at the Euclid Ave. school, publicly to say: "We demand a better educa-tion for our children." It is a good thing when Congressman Roybal is bold to speak out concerning the appalling treatment shown the children of this school by the principal, Dr. Tallman.

Dr. Tallman, however, had been well-warned that a protest demonstration was scheduled at the school for Octo-ber 9. And, she is no dum-my hwen it comes to selfpreservation. Moreover, she knows how easy it still is for an anglo to flatter and buy off the loyalties of numbers of innocent Mexican parents. Dr. Tallman played her cards well. She gathered around her the "bought and paid for local parents, pathetically eager for her favors and approval and recognition, and aided them in scheduling a pro-Tallman counter demonstration. She marshalled her forces well, and dressed them in their Sunday best. So, the stage was set: inof the deplorable state of the East Los Angeles Schools being publicly protested and Dr. Tallman's malpractice publicly proclaimed, she had maneuvered for Mexicans to be demonstrating against Mexicans. The anglo could sit back and laugh. The Mexican ought to have been weeping.

But, all was not lost. There was an out. It could have been conceded by UCCO that the anglo had out-foxed them, and they could have "no showed" saving their ammunition for another day. However, the picket line proceeded. Dr. Tallman won, and So: the Mexican lost. Mexicans marched against Mexicans, and Dr. Tallman could relax. She was no longer the issue. Let her be warned, however. And, let all the anglo supervisors and administrators and teachers who exploit our children be warned. There will be another day -without advance warning, and the Mexicans will have a leader who "knows how it is", and we shall prevail.

Un análisis de todas las muertes, en combate o fuera de combate, desde el 7 de Enero de 1961 y el 29 de Febrero de 1967 indica que un número muy alto de jóvenes Mexicoamericanos es enviado al Asia Sureste y-aun mas impor-tante - que la mayoria de esos jóvenes reciben asig-naciones de mayor peligro. Miembros de las fuerzas armadas provenientes de los 5 estados del sureste de los EUA, Texas, Nuevo Mexico, Arizona, Colorado y California, tuvieron bajas por un to-tal de 1,631. El 19.4% de esas bajas fueron personas con apelativos españoles. Este porciento de bajas aparece muy alto si se compara con la proporción de de personas con apelativos españoles en la población en general, es decir 11.8% en el censo de 1960. El porciento es alto también si se le compara con el número de hombres de edad militar (entre los 17 y 36 años), que se estima en el 13.8%.

Bajas por ramas de servicio sugieren que un número relativamente alto de Mexicoamericanos están alocados a deberes de gran peligro. Por ejemplo, personas con apelativos españoles repre-sentan el 23.3% de las muertes en el Marine Corps, 19.4% del ejercito, 9.1% de la Fuerza Aerea, y 7.3% de la Marina. Bajas en el Ma-rine Corps, son muyaltas en los estados del Suroeste e incluven un número substancial de Mexicoamericanos. En Nuevo Mexico, por ejemplo, 13 de las 25 bajas en el Marino Corps eran Mexicanos (el 50%). En Colorado de 37 Marines que murieron en combate o fuera de combate, tenian apelativos españoles

El Departamento de Defensa clasifica las bajas como de combate y fuera de combate. En el periodo mencionado enteriormente hubieron 1,335 bajas de combate y 296 muertes fuera de combate. Personas con apelativos españoles representaban más del 20% de las bajas de combate y 14% de las muertes de fuera de combate. Bajas de combate resultan de acciones militares en contra del enemigo; muertes de fuera de combate resultan de enfermedades, accidentes, y causas similares.

La mayoria de los Mexicoamericanos vive en las ciudades del Suroeste de los EUA, y por lo tanto la mayoria de las bajas de guerra provienen de esas ciudades. Sin embargo, la alta tasa de bajas entre los Mexicoamericanos es altísima en ambos sectores, el urbano y el rural. El 19.5% de las bajas urbanas y el 18.1% de las bajas rurales, en los estados del Suroeste són personas de apelativos españoles.

Una interpretación adecuada de esta información estadística es imposible sin otras Fuentes de data. Los Mexicoamericanos están sobrerepresentados en las fuerzas armadas en general o porque están sobrerepresentados en las unidades enviadas al frente de combate en Vietnam. Dado que muy pocos chicanos van al colegio, ellos tienen menores oportunidades de ser deferidos por las juntas de inducción (draft boards), en las. cuales no hay representación adecuada de las minorias etnicas. La pobreza y el deseo de ser aceptado en la sociedad, mucho más fácil en las fuerzas armadas que en la sociedad en general, puede dar un incentivo muy poderoso a los chicanos para engancharse voluntariamente y al mismo tiempo, recibir bonos monetarios asociados con deberes de alto riesgo. Para muchos chicanos, las fuerzas armadas ofrecen la primera, y a veces única, oportunidad para escapar de los barrios. De cualquier modo, la información de bajas de guerra entre los chicanos parece confirmar la experiencia de la Segunda Guerra Mundial y de Korea que fué perpetuada en forma vívida por Raúl Morín en su libro Among the Valiant.

(de la página uno) de mis responsabilidas eran 2 años de servicio activo... también voluntariamente extendí mi servicio por dos años...queria recibir el entrenamiento especial que necesitaba para las Fuerzas Especiales.

P. Porqué entrastes voluntariamente en ese tipo de entrenamiento?

R. El ejército regular era mas como una tropa de "boy scouts". Yo no podía...no quería permanecer en esa situación ... Tienes que recordar que en el ejercito la mejor forma de darse una buena vida es de besarle el trasero a sargentos con caras de perro.

P. Nacistes en California?
R. Si. Antes de engancharme en el ejercito...toda mi vida--17 años--la había pasado en "Los Barrios" de Los Angeles.

P. Has estado en Vietnam?
R. Sí.
P. Qué hicistes en Vietnam?

R. Fui monitor o consejero en equipos que tenian misiones de demolición y de reconocimiento dentro de territorio de los "Charlies" (i.e. territorio controlado por el Viet Cong.)

P. Eran esos equipos del ejercito Vietnamita?

R. Si, ellos eran los reclutas especiales de las fuerzas armadas del Vietnam del Sur. La mayoria habia sido entrenado en los Estados Unidos.

Fuéron exitos as esas D misiones?

R. Si, las misiones fueron un exito, porque en ellas recolectamos información acerca de las actividades del Viet Cong. Sin embargo, la información y los reportes que preparamos, en el 80% de los casos, fueron abandonadas a las mesas empolvadas de algunos oficiales (CO's). Fueron esas misiones P. exitosas en convencer al campesino vietnamita de que debian tomar una posición pro-Americana?

R. No, cómo podria suceder. eso si amenudo sus pueblos eran quemados y sus casas eran saqueadas y la tortura era la regla y no la exepción en caso de sospechosos de ser del Vietcong. El uso del Napalm era muchas veces desastroso. A veces la bomba iba fuera de curso y pueblos enteros eran convertidos en hogueras.

that i had a 2 yr. committment to fulfill on active dtuy. I further extended my tour of duty 2 yrs to gain the special training that my volunteering for Special Action in Vietnam would necessitate.

boy scout army

Q. Why did you volunteer for this training?

The Armed Forces was A. basically a Boy Scout Envi-ronment. I could not allow myself to remain in that situation. (pause) You must remember that the main means to a good life in the Regular Army is a constant contact of the olfactory nerves to the anus of some Bulldog-face Sargent.

Were you born in Calif? Q. Were you born in Calif? A. Yes. Prior to my leav-ing for Active all my 17 yrs. had been spent in "Los Barrios" of L.A.

Did you see action in Q. Vietname ?

Yes, I did.

A. Yes, I did.Q. Basically, what was your role in Vietnam?

A. To advise and assist teams on missions involving demolitions and reconassance tactics, inside "Charlie Country" (i.e. land con-trolled by the National Liberation Front. ((Viet Cong))) Were these teams from 0. the South Vietnamese Army? Yes there were the spe-A. cial trainees of the South Vietnamese Armed Forces. Most of them were trained to a great extent in the U.S.

successful missions?

Q. How successful were these missions against the Viet Cong?

Α. The missions were successful in that we gathered the necessary information on Viet Cong activities. However the information was in I would say 80% of the missions left to gather dust on some CO's desk.

Q. Those missions were they at all successful in bringing the peasant to a pro-American position?

No. How. could we? Α. village would often be burned, houses ransacked and torture was a rule rather than exception to the "Viet Cong suspects". The use of na-palm was often disastrous. Often it missed its target and an entire village was victimized.

El Mexican-American Action Committee (MAAC, Comité de Acción Mexicoamericano) otorgó tres becas a estudiantes Mexicanos la semana pasada. P. Estoy confundido, como Q. I'm a bit confused. How pudes decir que las misiones

eran exitosas si almismoti-empo dices que erana menu-do un desastre ?

R. Nuestra misión era encontrar al Charlie. Si encontrabamos al Charlie nuestra misión era un exito. El resto, el "back up" es una operación militar diferente.

Mucha gente se pregunta, si los Estados Unidos es tan poderoso, cómo puede fallar de ganar una victoria militar?

R. Bueno, la guerra de guerillas es muy diferente de la Q. guerra convencional. Elterreno del Vietnam es una ventaja para el Viet Cong. El camuflaje, las tácticas de pegar y correr, las mañas e instintos animales del Viet Cong hace imposible el uso de tacticas convencionales con exito.

Y qué del pueblo Vietnamita ?..

R. Que quieres decir, el Viet Cong?

P. Lo que iba a preguntar es de que si los vietnamitas a-poyan al Viet Cong?

R. Yo no diria apoyo... pero ellos ayudan al Viet Cong porque los alimentan y los es-conden. En parte lo hacen por el odio que el pueblo le tiene a al gobierno de Saigon, sin importar quien sea el gobierno, y en parte por miedo. Miedo al terrorismo, usado por los dos lados para ganar la victoria.

P. Porqué, si tenias tantos dudas, como pareces tener, querías servir en las Fuerzas Especiales?

R. Porque en las Fuerzas Especiales a uno lo tratan como un hombre y con el respeto que uno se merece. Era un cambio refrescante en comparación con el ejercito regular.

También, mi idea original fué de que yo podria ayuador al pueblo Vietnamita a ayudarse a ellos mismos.

Pero, no pienso que esta matanza moralística pueda o deba continuar.

can you on one hand claim a mission a success while admitting it was often a disaster?

Our missions was to find Charlie. If we did that our mis sions was successful. The rest, the "backup" is an altogether different question.

will U.S. win?

It has often been aked why if the U.S. is so powerful can it fail to win a military victory?

Well Guerilla warfare is different from conventional warfare. The environment of Vietnam is a direct advan-tage to the Viet Cong. Camouflaging, hit and run tactics, the cunning and animalistic instincts of the V.C. make it virtually impossible to use conventional warfare succesfully.

What about the Vietna-0. mese people? Do... A. You mean the Viet Cong?

A. Q. What I meant to ask was do the Vietnamese generally support the Viet Cong?

A. I wouldn't say support them. But they do aid them in that they will hide and feed them. They do this I believe half from the hatred vs the Saigon Govt. (which ever one is in power at the time, and half from fear. Fear and terrorism though is used by both sides to gain their ends. Q. Why having as many doubts as you seem to have did you serve in that capacity?

Well, frankly in the Spe-Α. cial forces one is treated as a Man with the respect due him. This was a refreshing change from the regular Ar my

Also my initial idea was that I could help the people of So. Vietnam help themselves.

I just don't think this "Moralistic Killing" can go on.

Los Angeles

La Gente ya ha Despertado"

El dia 4 de Octubre de 1967. los adminstradores del Catholic Welfare Bureau, agencia responsable por el East Los Angeles Community Development Project de la EYOA. celebraron una junta de negociaciones con el Comité para la Protección de Nuestros Derechos. Las negociacones trataban la composición del Community Advisory Council (Concilio de Consejeros de la Comunidad), que aconsejaria recomendaria y aprobaria los programas de la agencia en las comunidades de San Alphonsus y de Ramona Gardens.

El projecto (E. L. A. Com-munity Development P.) s e comprometió bajo contrato a proveer una variedad de servicios sociales de beneficios a la comunidad y de fomentan y entrenar lideres entre la comunidad de ingresos bajos y poca educación.

Las comunidades que el proyecto cubre están formadas por personas de habla española, pero solamente uno de los 13 miembros del personal era de origen Mexicano, la Sra. Beatrice Olvera. Por mucho tiempo la Sra. Olvera presentó quejas en contra de San Alphonsus se juntar on uno de los supervisadores, Mr. Romano, por la forma abusiva y despreciante en que trataba a las mujeres que trabajaban en el proyecto y a los miembros de la comunidad de origen Mexicano.

Durante el mes de Julio pasado la administración trató de transferir a la Señora Olvera; dejando a la comunidad de habla española en el area de San Alphonsus sin un empleado del proyecto con el cual pudieran communicarse. Una de las funciones más importantes de la Sra. Olvera era el de trabajas con las Señoras casadas en consultas de asuntos personales y de familia, en un grupo lla- y otros miembros del UCCO mado Family Living Educa- fueron con delegados del Cotion Group.

P. Cuál seria tu sugerencia de lo que los EUA puede hacer en Vietnam?

Como dice el Senador R. Aiker "Declaremos una victoria y hacer un pullout."

Con el conocimiento que tienes hoy, volverias a pelear en Vietnam ?

R. Si mi contribución ter-minara la guerra, si pelea-ria. Pero hoy esta guerra es una destrucción sin sentido de vidas americanas y vidas vietnamitas.

Una de las razones en contra de una retivada es la perdida de prestigio que sufririamos... R. Bueno, Francia se retiró de Algeria en una situación similar. También, que ya hemos perdido tanto prestigio debido a la guerra misma, que ya el prestigio no es un punto en cuestión.

Cuál es tu consejo para los jovenes de edad militar? Que se queden en la es-R. cuela v terminen su educación, ellos deben pensarlo con cuidado. Deben recordarse que una medallo viva en el cuerpo de un hombre muerto no vale el precio que se paga.

What would you suggest 0. the U.S. do in Vietnam? A. To quote Sen. Aiken,

"Let's declare a Victory and pull out.

Q. Knowing What you know today, would you bear arms in Vietnam?

A. If my bearing arms would mean an end to the conflict, yes. But today the war is a senseless and wholesale destruction of American lives as well as Vietnamese.

One of the biggest reasons given against withdrawing from Vietnam is the loss of prestige we would suffer. Well now, France with-Α. drew in a similar situation from Algeria. Vecinos en la comunidad de para organizar un grupollamado Comité para la Defensa de Nuestros Derechos. Una vez organizados, mandaron delegados a juntas con el Padre Stein del Proyecto y también con otros adminstradores, pero en ninguna de esas juntas recibieron satisfac ción a su petición de que a la Sra. Olvera se le dejara trabajara en esta comunidad.

Durante esas negociaciones muchos más vecinos se habian unido el Comité de Protección Delegados del Comité presentaron un reporte de la situación y pidieron ayuda del United Council of Community Organizations. Pat Sanchez mité para la Protección de Nuestro Derechos a juntas con el padre Stein, Msr. Johnson, y otros administradores, con los mismos resultados negativos.

Cansados de pedir y pedir n resultado, vecinos de la sin resultado, vecinos de la comunidad de San Alphonsus con la ayuda del United Council decidieron en emplear acción directa es decir una linea de piquete en frente de la cancilleria (chancery office) con reporteros de los periodicos y la radio y cámaras de la Televisión. El Catho-Welfare Bureau responlic dio inmediatamente, les sorprendió ver a Mexicanos que podian hablar muy poco es pañol haciéndole linea de guardia a una agencia de la Iglesia Católica.

En las juntas celebrados por el Comité para la Protección administradores del Catho-What would you suggest lic Welfare Bureau después de la linea de piquete, Padre That he should remain in Stein y Msr. Johnson estuvieron de acuerdo en que la Sra. Beatrice Olvera regresaria a su posición en la agencia, seria trasladado a otro lutar. La otra demanda del Comité es de que se organice un Concilio de Consejeros de la Comunidad para asegurar que casos como el del Supervisor Romano y el de la Sra. Olvera no se repitan en el futuro. El Catholic Welfare Bureau ya accepto la idea de que se necesita un Concilio que exprese los deseos yaspiraci-ones de la-comunidad.

En la junta del 4 de Octubre se puso en claro cuáles son las intenciones de los administradores del Catholic Welfare Bureau: Ellos quieren controlar el Proyecto de E.L. A. Community Development, en tal forma que la comuni-dad no tendrá--como no ha tenido hasta ahora--ninguna oportunidad de influenciar los programas.

La diferencia entre la administración y los vecinos delarea es fundamental. Padre Steiny Msr. Johnson quieron tener el poder de esco-jer a los miembros del Concilio de Consejeros para po-der controlarlos. El Comité para la Protección de Nuestros Derechos quiere que la communidad e s c o ja democráticamente quienes van a representarlos en ese Concilio de Consejeros para asegurarse de que sus sentimientos son expresados y sus derechos respetados.

Cuando se le dijo al Msr. Johnson que el dinero de la Catholic Welfare Bureau para ese Proyecto de Desarrollo viene del gobierno federal para programas de la Guerra Contra la Pobreza por contratos donde se ga-rantiza la participación de los pobres en hacer las de-cisiones, el Msr. dijo: "Yo renunciare como Director y recomendaré a la Mesa Directiva del Catholic Welfare Bureau que se retire como agnecia responsable y ter-mine el programa." Eso es una chantaje al pobre.

Los miembros de la comunidad no se han dejado in-timidar. El Comité Para la Protección de Nuestros De-rechos continúa su s juntas en la comunidad y están pro-yectando la organización de un Concilio de Habla Hispana. Además, negociaciones van continuar con el Catholic Welfare Bureau para resolver este conflicto de intereses entre la comunidad y la administración.

Le preguntamos a la señora Olvera que pensaba de todo el asunto, y nos contestó: "... la lucha presente de muestra la tremenda fuerza y. determinación de la comunidad Mexicoamericana unida. La gente ya ha despertado. "
